

IS THERE MORE TO SEE In Your Family Tree?

It may be obvious that you inherited your mother's good looks. But some things that run in the family aren't that easy to recognize, like glaucoma. African Americans are at higher risk for glaucoma, especially if another family member has the condition.

So, at this year's reunion, share eye health information from your family tree—it may help save a loved one's sight.

Visit www.nei.nih.gov/glaucoma

National Eye Institute

National Eye Health
Education Program
NEHEP

A program of the National Institutes of Health